AS TO LOYALTY

"The Good Book says that one cannot serve two masters. By the same token one cannot hold sincere allegiance to two countries—he cannot hold aloft two flags and be loyal to both at the same time. One or the other must ride at the top of the mast. Loyalty is an attribute akin to godliness. Treason is the outward expression of ingratitude.

"President Coolidge says that the greatest danger to our government today, lies among those who are here, but who are unassimilated in heart and spirit, and whose greater love is still for the foreign lands they left to better their condition in the United States.

"It is not natural, nor even cause for criticism, that a person coming to the United States from some foreign country should retain a certain degree of love for the land of his birth. All citizens of the United States descended from foreign lands, and there is no disapproval in this. We love to trace our ancestry back to the Pilgrim Fathers, and even beyond. But there is a limit to ancestral boastfulness.

"Marital vows remove a young man or a young woman from the parental home, and a new home is chosen. This does not mean that love and respect for the old home should be obliterated, but it does mean that a new altar has been erected—a new hearthstone built and dedicated to a new life, and this is the altar and this is the hearthstone that demands loyalty above all others.

"So it is with the country of one's adoption. No man ever came to the United States of America except of his own volition, urged by a desire to obtain greater temporal blessings. The highways of the seas are never closed against his return, if he finds himself unhappy under the laws and under the Constitution of this country.

THE TRICKY MAN

A man of our acquaintance recently made a sum of money by edging a friend into a corner and tricking him. He didn't take the money at the point of a gun but he robbed his friend just the same. Shrewdness and trickery may easily win for a time, but in the end a man will not get far unless he is honest, dependable and trustworthy. Persistence, determination, backbone, are necessary to success. A man must believe in himself if he would succeed. He cannot believe in himself after he has profited by an unfair deal.

"Shrewdness and trickery may win an immediate reward, but the square-shooter gets the most game in the long run.

Village Was Sult In Supreme Court

Suit Brought To Force Payment Against School Board
For North Main Street Paving — Legal Question
Establishes Precedent For Ohio. Victory For Harry D. Smith, Village Solicitor.

The Ohio Supreme Court Tuesday rendered a decision that clears a disputed point in Ohio and settles the question relative to Boards of Education escaping the cost of street improvements, which heretofore have been assessed on property owners. The Attorney General's office represented the Board of Education, who had been advised not to pay the assessment for the street paving.

The case has been pending for some months and reached the Supreme Court at the request of the Village of Cedarville. The case was in the name of Frank A. Jackson, county treasurer, against the Board of Education of Cedarville Township. All assessments are collected as taxes by the treasurer, Mr. Jackson.

When the North Main street improvement was first proposed the local board gave sanction in that the new street was needed not only for the public but the school as well, due to the condition of the street at that point, where at times it was impassable. The majority of the property owners favored the improvement and council proceeded with the work.

When the street was completed and the assessments were being prepared the question arose about the school property. Solicitor Harry D. Smith, in an opinion held that the school property would have to stand its share.

When it came time to pay the first assessment the board ordered same paid, but this was held up by Mr. Andrew Jackson, who was advised otherwise by Attorney General C. C. Crabbe's office.

As bonds had been issued and would have to be paid it was up to the village to press the suit or stand to lose.

about $2,200. Council went on record favoring taking the case to the Supreme Court if necessary to determine a point even attorneys had not been able to settle. Solicitor Smith was given instructions to go to the highest court—and he has won a victory that will be the guide for school assessments cases in the future.

It had been contended for years that the property of schools could not be assessed for any purpose. Where the district was wholly within a municipality, this made no difference but in cases where outside territory was included in the school district other than the municipality, it was unfair that one taxing district, such as the village should have to stand the cost of improvement of property, that was wholly out of the village. Townships were required to pay street assessments in front of the opera house and it was felt that in justice to the village the school property should be assessed the same way.

The action of the Supreme Court not only settles this controversy but saves the village taxpayers about $2,200. The decision of the court not only legalizes such assessments but it expressly states that suit can be brought against school boards to enforce payment of assessments in case they are refused.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

DON'T OVERLOAD THE IMAGINATION

The trouble with most writing and stage productions is that they stifle the imagination by overloading it.

There are those who hold that it is better to read a play than to see it acted, for when you read your imagination can picture the scene, whereas when you see the play all the work of your imagination is done for you.

A suggestion to the imagination is better than too much.

The Orientals understood this and their scenery in the play is of a suggestive kind and is not realistic. For instance, when a boat is to be depicted a real boat is not brought on the stage, but some contraption that can suggest a boat.

A little girl gets more fun out of an old doll than she does out of a fancy doll that can open and shut its eyes and conceal a phonograph which talks.

A boy gets quite as much fun out of riding astraddle of a broomstick and calling it a horse as he would out of riding a horse.

A great part of the fun of any kind of play consists in using the imagination and like every other faculty, the imagination gets more pleasure when it is stimulated to activity than when it is loaded down by outside pleasure.

It is better for the health to take exercise than to have massage. It is better to make your own exercise than to have someone make it for you.

In the same way it is better to use your own imagination than to use that of someone else.

This has a distinct reference to style; for a style is better than is full of descriptions.

Let the mind do its own flying and do not carry it in the aeroplane of your own abundant talk.

BRAND PREDICTS 100,000 IN OSBORN

Congressman Charles Brand, in an address before the Commercial Club in Osborn Thursday night stated that within the next twenty years Osborn would have a population of 100,000 people. His predictions were based on three things: The largest airport in the world; its inland location, and surrounded by a great agricultural district. Osborn now claims to be the second largest town in the county.

Congressman Brand in discussing the farm situation stated that farm industry had declined more than 50 per cent on investments. He urged farmers of the North to band with farmers of the South and West in forwarding demands for farm relief legislation.

The Community Supper

Really Like Christmas

"The 118th community supper was always so stupid!" declared a pretty girl to a small group around her. "I wish we could put some pep and fun into this one and give the people a good time. Something really like Christmas, and not so dull."

The others looked dubious and scratched their heads. "What'll we do?" they asked. "I know!" declared the pretty girl. "Just get the idea. Now, listen everyone! Why not imitate the way they used to do in olden times? A minstrel in the gallery, lots of minstrel! Singing and playing on horns and things! Hide them by screens covered with greens. Let the people get seated at the tables, then all pipe up with whistles every one knows. Dress the minstrels in gay colors. Then have them come down the stairs singing and playing. Let them wind among the tables. Have a jester in front, joking and making fun. A real old English custom. It will help a lot and give the diners a good time."

"And," added another, fired with enthusiasm, "red candles on the tables, wreaths at all the windows, waitresses with red ribbons about their heads and a sprig of holly tucked over one ear."

"Not to mention," laughed a third, "dinner of roast turkey, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, rolls, coffee and mince pie!"

"Right-o!" said the rest. "And so it was done. The very merriest community supper that was ever given in that town.—Patience Eden. (© 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)"

Sing Heigh-Ho Unto

The Christmas Holly

NOTHING quite so typifies the spirit of Christmas as a bunch of beautiful, gleaming holly and scarlet-covered holly. Holly seems the quintessence of Yule and should and generally does occupy the place of honor in Christmas decorations.

There are states where the holly isn't to be found in great abundance. In some sections of the South a limited supply must be made to serve the purpose. For profuse decorations other greens, fashioned from sprays of Irish yew whose fanlike and lacy foliage is ideal for this use; and, too, there are the beautiful, waxy leaves from the magnolia as well as cedar.

But the holly bunch, of course, of all Christmas green is the loveliest and most popular, not only here but in other lands and in France, in particular, as Britta grows it in quantities. The holly is of slow growth and propagated by seed which do not germinate until the second year. We think of holly berries always as being red, but some kinds bear yellow fruit, some white, and others even black.

The holly has a commercial value that isn't generally known. Its evergreen and hard wood is ivory white and is used for inlaying and as an cheap substitute for ebony handles and other articles, when stained. The leaves are used in medicine. Frances Marshall Morgan. (© 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

Some Hubbies Are Brave

She—What were you thinking of giving me for Christmas, hubby?
He—I was thinking of some nice warm woolen stockings, dear.

First Christmas Trees

Christmas trees became popular in the United States about the same time that they were introduced into England. In England the first Christmas trees were set up in the royal palace of St. James at the time Queen Victoria married the prince consort, in 1840.

Christmas Comes

Heads of families think it is remarkable what a short time there is between Christmas.

W. M. Apple Given Prison Sentence

The Grand Jury last Thursday indicted W. M. Apple, 118 Oakland ave., Columbus, Ohio, for 20 years, or such time as he is subject to pardon.

G. W. Herron, Cedarville-Jamestown pike indicted for assault and battery against John C. Spahr. P. W. Edmiston, South Charleston, indicted to charge of defrauding the American Loan Co., Xenia, in giving a mortgage on cattle he did not own. The amount was for $450. A plea of guilty was entered and Edmiston was given a penitentiary sentence.

Apple entered a plea of guilty this week and was sent to the penitentiary.

Conceals a Gift

This demure colonial dame, with her quaint poke bonnet, conceals a box of talcum powder and provokes pleasant and grateful thoughts at the same time. Crepe paper, narrow ribbon and wire are required for her costuming. Her head is made of a bit of domestic stuff with cotton, the pretty face painted on with water colors, topped by curly, artificial hair.

When Glass Melts

The bureau of standards says that the glass of which an ordinary bottle is made begins to soften at about 600 degrees C. and continually becomes softer as the temperature is increased until at about 1,300 degrees C. it is very fluid.

"Scissor Painted" Vase

"Scissor painting" is an easy new method of decorating pottery, lamp shades and other things so that they look as if they were hand painted. Here is a pretty vase decorated with designs cut from crepe paper and pasted to it, and glazed with transparent amber sealing wax paint. The pattern is cut out carefully and the paste applied with the grain of the paper, being sure to cover the edges. It is then put in position and pressed down securely. Paint over the entire surface with the thin sealing wax paint, and after it has dried paint in a background with thicker paint, about as thick as cream, in one color or in shaded effects.

Store With Every Kind of Gift

PLANS for this Christmas 1926 were laid almost 12 months ago. In every department, on every floor, intensive study was given to "what made Christmas 1925 so successful and what will improve our service to the Miami valley and our customers for Christmas 1926!"

When we found what was most wanted, what prices were most favored, where we could secure the best, we sent our representatives all over the world on our quest. Into every hidden corner they went, both here and abroad; searching out, bringing to the Miami valley the gifts of all the earth.

Now, as the result, in every way the Greater Christmas Store is ready.

Miss Thirzah McMillan Called Friday

Marion Thirzah McMillan was born July 11, 1845 at Morning Sun, O., and died November 19, 1906, aged 61 years 4 months and 8 days. She was the twelfth child of the Rev. Gavin and Rosanna Ronald McMillan. After the Rev. Mr. McMillan's death, mother and daughter lived on the home farm near Morning Sun, O., until 1878, when they removed to Cedarville, O., where she made her home till five years ago, when she went to Chicago to live with her nieces, the Misses Mary and Jennie Bratton.

When Mrs. McMillan had passed away Thirzah, at the request of the Hon. Whitelaw Reid, went to care for her mother's sister, Mrs. Marion Reid. She stayed with Mrs. Reid two years, until her death, after which she made her home with her only living sister, Mrs. Louisa Bratton, and her niece, Miss Jennie.

In early youth Miss McMillan united with the Reformed Presbyterian church of which she remained a faithful member throughout her life. Her interest in missions was one of the outstanding features of her life.

So in a few words we summarize a long life. Unmarked by any striking events, it was lived in gentleness and loveliness, these latter years, for of a large family she is survived only by one sister-in-law, Mrs. Daniel McMillan of Fulton, Mo., and thirteen nephews and nieces. Father, mother, and thirteen children are now a united family in their heavenly home.

Following funeral services on Sabbath, Nov. 21, at her home, 3436 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, the body was taken to Morning Sun for interment.

There the funeral services were held Monday at one o'clock, at the United Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. W. P. Harriman, assisted by Rev. Cowden of that place, and the Rev. Gavin Reilly of Camden, O.

1926 Christmas Seals To Be Everywhere

During the month between Thanksgiving, November 25th and Christmas, December 25th, you will see three carolers singing every day, everywhere. They will greet you as you walk past store windows, or open your newspaper. For the carolers are painted on the 1926 Christmas Seal's.

They stand against the deep blue of a night sky, lighter towards the top because of the distant glow of the moon—or a star deepening into shadows at the horizon.

For garb, they wear scarlet cowls and tights, and bright yellow perkins. This same costume minstrels donned forgotten years ago as they sang their songs before the roaring, blazing fires of oak-raftered halls, during the holiday season.

The caroler on the left touches the strings of a lute; the one on the right sounds the clear notes of a trumpet; and between them a third holds a snow-white shield bearing the double-barred cross, world-wide emblem of the tuberculosis associations.

The third number on the lyceum course comes Wednesday, December 1st. Edward Reno, the famous expert illusionist. For 35 years Mr. Reno has been giving exhibitions and traveling over the world in search of new things. One of his greatest feats is what is called his "dove trick". He burns a piece of common paper, and a dove rises phoenix-like from the ashes. He apparently tears the dove in two, only to find that he has two doves in his hands. He throws a glass of water in to the air, and it changes into a dove and flies away. Reno promises to have an interesting entertainment on December 1st.
